street performer

Alan Extreme

I am Alan Extreme, also known as Multi-Talent. One of the most multi-talented performers in Singapore. Started learning magic at the age of 16, I've traveled places to perform ever since I discovered my nature gift for performing. At the age of 24, after quitting from a private school, I threw myself into the streets to work as a full-time street performer in order to polish my skills. It was then that I took up balloon sculpturing and juggling to further enhance my performance. Through the years of my street performing career I've met with many harsh criticisms from my family members, relatives, friends and audiences. As time goes by, I discovered my true aim in life - to bring laughter and wonders to people. Dedicating my life to work as an entertainer, I've spent countless time and effort discovering and learning new talents in order to bring out the best for my performance. It was difficult especially when I do not have a mentor to guide me along, but persistency finally pays off.

Buskers dedicate their time and effort in bringing joy to the street, please show your support by giving. Thank you.
