

Rajinder Singh

about the artist

Sho-ta-sa is an art label (if there is such a thing) launched in 2009 by a group of artists who are also parents.. They paint, sculpt, write, make music, design toys, build installations and much more for infants, toddlers and children either for their enjoyment, education or general consumption. Strictly speaking there are many interpretations to the hindi word 'Sho-ta-sa' but to us it has always meant 'the little one'. We live and breathe to create and to be there for our babies. With sho-ta-sa, we combine the two. How wonderful!