

Florence Show

about the artist

Director of Freight Forwarding Company. She has always had a real interest in art during school days. She started art learning more seriously in 2005 with a strong desire to be a professional artist. Explored with all kinds of medium before turning to Oil painting. Still constantly learning and evolving her own style. She wishes to further explore the creative arrangement of artworks into an abstract and contemporary painting with bright colors.